Green Brunei & Heart of Borneo Centre, with the support from HSBC Brunei, is proud to present to you international award-winning wildlife photographers, C. S. Ling and Ethan Lim from Singapore, who share their amazing photographic adventures documenting some of the world's most magnificent and endangered wildlife in Asia, especially in Borneo!

Their photographs speak in profound ways, highlighting the beauty of the natural world and raising awareness for the endangered animals, inspiring all to make a positive difference.

Collectively, with a string of awards, exhibitions and publications notably in National Geographic Explorer magazine and BBC Wildlife Online, they are determined to make the world a better place, one photo at a time.

Green Brunei is a non-profit organisation recently established in Brunei. Green Brunei hopes to be the biggest green community in Brunei, with the goal of providing free green educational resources and an enabler of youth-initiated environment projects. We work closely within a 3P partnership (People, Public, and Private sectors) to promote and inculcate environmental conservationism in Brunei.

Life List Chase (lifelistchase.com | facebook.com/lifelistchase) strives to promote environmental/wildlife conservation and education through photography workshops, exhibitions, overseas wildlife photography expeditions and inspirational speaking engagements.

C. S. Ling is a National Geographic Explorer Photographer, endorsed Nikon Singapore Professional Photographer, SanDisk Extreme Team Member and Gitzo Ambassador (Singapore). She is celebrated as "Great Women of Our Time 2011 (Arts & Media)" by Singapore Women's Weekly and "Green Role Model 2011" by National Geographic Explorer Magazine. Her works are published worldwide, most notably in National Geographic Explorer magazine and SilkWinds magazine.

Ethan Lim is an international award-winning wildlife photographer whose interest in endangered wildlife led him to begin his first conservation photography initiative to document the plight of endangered Orangutan orphans in Borneo. His image, titled "Endangered Orangutan" won him the Prix Mammifère in the AFPAN 15th International Photo Competition 2011.

Both C. S. Ling and Ethan Lim are Gitzo Ambassadors (Singapore) and have collectively exhibited their works in over 10 solo and group exhibitions in Singapore, Japan, Dubai, France, and Italy.
